Leans From Train; Head Hits Bridge

Charles Cross of This City Victim of Singular Mishap on B. & O. Train Near Columbus Thursday

Charles Cross, 28 residing onthe P. C. Shipps farm, south of this city, was terribly cut about the scalp and narrowly escaped death in a singular accident on a B. & O. train about 21 miles west of Columbus Thursday afternoon.

Compelled to stand on the steps of the train, he leaned out holding to the steel handles and as the train passed a bridge his head struck one of the steel girders. Fortunately he was knocked back into the steps of the train instead of to the ground.

The victim was revived by a physician on the train who dressed his wounds temporarily. At Columbus he was taken to the Protestant hospital where the wounds were sewed up.

Attended G. A. R. Meet

Cross, who acted as an alternate from the local camp of the Sons of Veterans to the annual state encampment held at Washington C. H., was on his way home. When he was struck by the steel girder the train was running at a good rate of speed and the force of the blow knocked him back into the vestibule of the car where he was saved from falling by other passengers. He was rendered unconscious by the terrific blow and two deep wounds were inflicted in his scalp. It was first thought that his skull had been fractured but an examination made by a physician who happened to be on the train showed that this was not the case.

Is Brought Home

Cross arrived in this city on Pennsy train No. 34 Thursday night and although still weak from the loss of blood and shock of the accident was able to be taken to his home. It is not thought that the injuries will result fatally.

Pulmotor Is Clever Invention

The working of the pulmotor owned by the Coshocton Gas Co. was successfully demonstrated to several newspaper men at the Elk Club Thursday afternoon. The little machine is used to revive persons who have been drowned, asphyxiated or electrocuted. By means of forcing artificial respiration the little machine can be used to a great advantage in many cases.

SICK LIST.

Miss Belle Wells of Denman avenue is ill with erysipelas.

THE WEATHER.

FOR OHIO —Probably showers and continued warm Friday: Saturday fair.

Sandwich, Ill., June 18. — Eleazer Fisher, who would have been 103 years old on Sept. 25, died here yesterday. He was said to have been the oldest white man in Illinois. He never used tobacco or intoxicants.

Mr. Fisher was born in Northfield, Vt., in 1810, and cast his twenty-first presidential vote last fall.

Walborn will present the following with diplomas: Miss Viola Heiser, Miss Stella Kauffman, Miss Opal Werts, Miss Janit Day, Brooke Lawrence, and Harry Blair.

Youth Drowns in Muskingum

Zanesville, O., June 18.—When James Harris, 18, was seized with cramps while swimming in the Muskingum river near the temporary 6th-st bridge tonight, he was drowned. The body was recovered in ten minutes, but efforts at resuscitation failed. He lived in New Concord.

BIRTH NOTE.

A daughter was born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hook of Route 7. The little lady has been named Hannah.

Tent City of 500 at Tyndall Bridge

Gangs of Structural Iron and Concrete Workers, Laborers, Inspectors, etc. Will Soon be Busy on Big New Pennsy Structure Across Muskingum River

Within the next month, a small city will spring up just south of Coshocton. Its growth will rival that of many mining towns since from the time operations are started it will be only a few days until the little city is completed.

Fully five hundred men will be brought in soon to build the new Pennsy Tyndall bridge five miles south of this city and for the sake of rushing the work practically all of the men will be housed in shacks and tents near the bridge.

Working On Piers.

There will be 300 men in the employ of the New York foundation company which has the contract for installing the piers for the structure. Twenty-five men are already stationed at the bridge by the Pittsburg Construction Co. which has charge of the structural iron work. A Chicago contracting firm will have a number of men on the job while there will also be a large number of laborers and inspectors employed by the Pennsy company.

Four-track bridge.

The men will be boarded by the different companies. Meals will be served in big dining tents, each employe paying a certain amount for his weekly meal ticket and bunk.

It is thought that before cold weather sets in, the bridge can be completed. It will be a huge structure, 40 or 50 ft. longer than the old one carried away by the recent flood and will be designed to accommodate four tracks.

Much Enthusiasm Marks Opening of Bethel Camp Meet

With an enthusiastic beginning that exceeded the anticipations of many interested in the success of the first annual meeting of the Bethal Camp meeting Association the opening service last evening was attended by a large crowd. Dr. John L. Brasher preached the opening sermon—a masterful and eloquent one—choosing as his text Phillipians 4-19 "My God Shall Supply all your need according to his riches in glory" Dr. Brashall said that his text included first, the needy creature, second the abundance of the supply, third the source of the supply, fourth, the measure and fifth, the majesty of God's riches. Dr. Brasher's straightforward presentation of the gospel given in his own marvelous way completely captivated his audience and proved conclusively that he is all that has been promised the people of Coshocton county by the camp meeting association.

Friday's program for the meetings at the camp includes:

Service at 8 a. m. led by Mrs. Murphy.

Service at 9:30 a. m. led by Rev. C. R. Chilton

Cities Only to Hold Primaries This Year

Columbus, O., June 19—According to a ruling by Secretary of State Graves, no primaries will be held this year except in municipalities of 2000 or more. The new constitution provides that no primaries shall be held in townships and municipalities of less than 2000, unless a majority of the electors petition for them.

The legislature sought to make this provision operative by providing when and where the petition should be filed but the provision was put into the state primary law which does not become effective until next January, so there is no way of holding primaries in townships and the municipalities not even if a majority of the electors should wish them.

Believes Liquor Bill Too Drastic

Columbus Ohio, June 19.—"As the bill is drawn it will stand little chance of being passed by vote of the people," said A. A. Shetler, representative of the liquor interests, when asked Wednesday about the probability of the enactment of the initiated bill of the Anti-Saloon league to prohibit the shipment of liquors into dry territory.

"We have no fear that the bill will be placed in the statute books on the proposed referendum vote," said he. "If it had been drawn so as merely to prohibit the shipment of liquors into such territory for the purpose of sale, it might have stood some chance for adoption. But there are in every such dry district many people who will support a dry proposition in a county option vote but who like to have in their homes a little wine for occasional use and sometimes a case of beer—all for home consumption. This bill will, if it becomes a law, prevent that

"It will make it a violation of the law to have any such liquors in the home for home consumption in excess of three quarts. So you see it is not merely as it claims to be, a measure to prevent shipment into dry territory. Later on our people will begin a campaign on this proposition, in which the people will be thoroughly enlightened as to its provisions."

Crops Are Damaged by Hail Storm

The intense heat which has held sway in Coshocton county would lead people to believe that there had not been a hail storm in the state this summer, but investigation proves that hail did considerable damage to crops Monday night in two sections of Coshocton county. In the Spring Mountain and Conesville vicinities large hail stones did some damage to the corn fields and gardens.

Dr. Smailes Has Office in Selby Block

J. D. Smailes formerly of New Moscow, who will graduate from the Ohio Medical university the latter part of this month expects to open an office in the Selby building and take up his practice in this city

Dr Smailes expects to begin his practice immediately after graduation.

Mrs. Lewis Fisher has returned to her home near Spring Mountain after a visit with her daughter in Cleveland.

First Machinery to Arrive on Saturday

Next Week Will See New Plant of S. & M. Rubber Co. a Busy Place-Will Also Establish Own Steel Plant

The first of the machinery for the S. & M. Tire and Rubber Co. will probably arrive in this city Saturday or next Monday. Immediately upon arrival a force of men will begin to install the big vulcanizers and it is thought that different parts of the machinery will arrive at intervals to keep the force of men busy until everything is ready for operation.

Vice President Smith, of the company, stated last night that the first tires would be turned out about September 15.

Operate Own Steel Plant.

The company will operate its own steel plant for the manufacturing of steel rims for the tires instead of having the steel work done by other concerns as was first planned.

The two-story frame building at the rear of the main plant is being arranged for the steel plant. The same man who systematized the Firestone plant in Akron has charge of the arranging of the local plant.

Work on Rubber Four Weeks.

Two car loads of machinery will be shipped to this city Saturday and immediately a force of men will start work. The last piece of machinery is due to arrive September 1 it being the calendar in which the tires are finished before being placed upon the market. It will require about four weeks to get the rubber in condition for tires and the machinery for this purpose will be at the plant so that the preliminary work can be started by August 15.

On the basement and first floor of the main building all of the heavy machinery will be installed in such a manner as to allow for a double growth of the plant. On the second floor the tires will be made.

400 Men Per Shift.

It is estimated that four hundred people can easily be employed on one shift at the plant and from the first the capacity will be about 100 tires a day. It is probably that for the first few weeks there will be only about 60 tires turned out a day but in view of the rubber tire shortage which is being felt to such a marked degree all over the country, it is quite probably that the plant will be running to its full capacity in a short time.

Swamped With Orders.

All of the larger factories in Akron are totally unable to meet the orders and are securing help from other tire factories. Even with the outside help all factories are badly swamped.

Thirty tire makers, all men with families, will be brought to this city when the plant begins operations. There will also be a number of expert steel makers and machine men brought into this city.

Will Import Labor.

"It is not our desire," said Mr. Smith to The Tribune Thursday night, "to take help from this city to the inconvenience of other local plants. There is a shortage of labor in this city and it is highly probable that we will have to import a large portion of our labor. However, any capable person in Coshocton will be given employment upon application."

John M'Call Passes Away in Sandusky

John McCall, a Civil War veteran, formerly a resident of Coshocton died at the Soldier's and Sailor's Home in Sandusky Wednesday evening according to a message received by Coshocton county relatives yesterday. Mr. McCall's death was due to the infirmities of age. He served in the 72 O. V. I. The widow Mrs Charlotte McCall, who is at present visiting her sister Mrs. Baringer of the Wills Creek vicinity, and a daughter Miss Elizabeth McCall of Pittsburg survive.

To Enforce Sane Fourth Odinance

The ordinance which gives Coshocton a safe and sane Fourth of July will be enforced rigidly this year. No fire works of any kind will be permitted within the city limits and there will be no local dealer allowed to sell the dangerous exposives. For the past two years Coshocton's "Fourths" have been sane to a marked degree and as a result there have been no ear splitting noises or accidents.

It has not yet been determined whether or not the city will give a fire works display on the evening of the Fourth.

Files Charges Against Hubby

Larkin Sprague of Wilson avenue was arrested Thursday by Constable Ed Curran on the strength of a peace warrant, sworn out by his wife Emma Sprague in Squire E. G. Abbott's court. Mr. Sprague alleges that her husband is abusive. He was arraigned and sent to jail in default of bond. He will likely be given a hearing today.

Mrs. Moore Passes Away at Age of 85

The death of Mrs. Anna Moser, aged 85 years, a prominent resident of Adamsville, occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. R. Stiers, Adamsville, Wednesday morning at 2:00 o'clock. She had been ill for the past year with infirmities incident to her advanced years. Deceased was the grandmother of Clark Sturtz, of this city. She had been a life-long resident of Adamsville and was known and loved by hundreds. She was a most faithful member of the New Hope Lutheran church near Adamsville. Surviving are three daughters: Mrs. E. Spencer, of North Dakota; Mrs. Ella Crawford of Columbus and Mrs. Stiers of Adamsville.

Mrs. Moser was the widow of Adam Moser who died over forty years ago. The funeral will be held at the New Hope Lutheran church Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in the church cemetery.—Zanesville Courier.

G. W. Bendure who has been ill at his home on South Lawn avenue for the past four weeks with rheumatism is improving slowly.

Painter Killed in Four-foot Fall

Philadelphia, June 19.—On the anniversary of a fall of forty feet in which he escaped injury, Huga Walker, a painter, 56 years old, was killed yesterday by a fall of only four feet. During the last fifteen years, he has several times had falls of fifteen and eighteen feet each time escaping injury. The only time he was injured was when he fell a few feet from a porch roof and received a fractured skull and one other occasion tumbling off a fence when several of his ribs and his jaw were fractured.

Yesterday when Walker was near the bottom of his ladder he tripped and fell to the ground, breaking his neck.

Locusts Will Make Regular Visit in 1914

The damage being done in some parts of the west by the 17-year locusts is a reminder that next year will be locust year in Ohio. The locusts came in 1880 and in 1897, and in 1914 they will be due to arrive again. The cool weather in 1897 destroyed most of the locusts before they had an opportunity to propagate and it is very probable that the locusts will be scarce in Ohio next year.

Leave for Visit to Gettysburg Battle Ground

Prof. C. E. Bryant and Prof. A. C. Pence will leave today for Gettysburg, Pa., to stay several days. They will spend their time on the historic battle ground.

Horses Arriving for Racing Meet

Practically all arrangements have been completed for the big race meet to be held here next week. There are seventy horses entered for the meet, thirty-five of which are already being trained at the local track.

The track is being put in good condition and indications are that the weather will be all that could be desired for real speed.

Babe Coming Back

There will be three races every day except Thursday when four events are carded. On Thursday what promises to be the best race ever seen on the local track will be held. The free-for-all race in which there are some of the fastest speeders from the Grand Circuit entered, is scheduled for that day. It will be remembered that in the free-for-all last year the track record was equalled by Babe, the fast pacing mare owned by Fred Jamison and the same little speeder is among the entries for the big race this year

From now until next week horses and horsemen will arrive in the city in large numbers and it is thought that by next Tuesday all horses will be in the city.

FANATIC RUN DOWN IN RACE

Male Suffraget Creates Panic on Ascot Track.

Ascot Heath, England, June 19.—A made suffragist, emulating the feat of Miss Emily Wilding Davison, who was fatally hurt trying to break up the Derby, dashed onto the race course here during the running of the $17,500 gold cup event, the chief race of the day, and tried to ruin the event.

Drawing a revolver from his pocket, he presented the weapon against Jockey Whalley, who was riding August Belmont's horse, Tracery, but before he could pull the trigger the iron shod hoofs of another horse in the race struck him, knocking him to the course.

The man was picked up unconscious and carried into the paddock, where it was discovered his skull was fractured. Doctors who examined him said he could hardly recover from his wounds.

The man had taken a position as near as possible to the royal enclosure, which was occupied by King George and Queen Mary. He stood at the rail and the countless guards on duty to prevent just such outrages had no warning of the tragic incident.

The royal party, including the numberless throngs of fashionable spectators, among them many foreign tourists, had their eyes leveled upon the stretch when, with a shout, the man hurled himself upon the track. Before anyone could interfere, he had drawn a suffrage flag and a revolver from his pocket and dashed amongst the running horses.

Tracery was evidently mistaken for a royal entry, for the man leveled his weapon at the jockey, at the same time waving his flag and shouting something which was lost in the thunder of the horses' hoofs.

Tracery swerved, throwing Jockey Whalley, who turned a complete somersault in midair. Another horse, however, which was running neck and neck with the Belmont entry, struck the suffragist, flattening him to the course.

The multitude was struck into horrified ma[illegible] and silence, so swiftly was the tragic scene enacted. A moment later a murmur of sound went up and guards rushed upon the course, lifting up the forms of Whalley and the suffragist. The former was found to be una[illegible]

TWENTY-EIGHT THOUSAND IDLE

Chicago Contractors Institute Building Trades Lockout.

Chicago, June 19.—Twenty-seven thousand, seven hundred men were locked out on uncompleted buildings in Chicago in the boycott against the building trades council instituted by the Building Construction Employers' associataion.

Work on buildings costing $29,000,000 was stopped when contractors on all buildings in the course of construction were notified that the lockout exists.

The lockout was the result of the failure to settle the strike of 150 stone masons on the new Continental and Commercial National bank building.

GETS ACID BATH.

Newark Woman May Die as Result of Nurses' Mistake.

Newark, O., June 19.—Mrs. Emma Larason, 60, is reported to be dying in the Newark sanitarium from the effects of a carbolic acid bath.

Mrs. Larason was operated on a week ago and was progressing favorably. The physician ordered an alcohol bath. The nurse picked up the wrong bottle, dashed acid on Mrs Larason and began rubbing. The woman was frightfully burned on the breast, arms and legs. The nurse's hands were burned.

The nurse, who, it is said, came here from Columbus to attend Mrs Larason, left after the accident and has not been heard from. Sanitarium officials refused to give her name. It is reported that an official investigation will be made.

PREDICTS BIG STRIKE.

Next Week Will Witness Crisis In West Virginia Situation.

Charleston, W. Va., June 19.—Failure of New river operators to grant concessions to the miners will result in a general strike in that field next week, according to Thomas Haggerty of the United Mine Workers, following a meeting of board members of District No. 29 at Beckley. Haggerty said the strike would be called some day next week.

Miners on Paint and Cabin creeks are expected to follow the example of the New river miners, and by the end of next week 15,000 to 20,000 miners are expected to be idle.

State Superintendent Makes Discoveries In Osborn Failure.

Columbus, O., June 19.—The groundwork for criminal action has probably been laid in connection with the wrecking of the state bank at Osborn, which was seized by State Bank Superintendent Emery Lattanner. It is found that the bank has been in an insolvent condition for some time, and that the executive officers of the bank must have known it. Owing to the stability of the security pledged, the established earning power and the satisfactory interest yield, the values of public utility bonds are little affected by market conditions.
The bonds we offer yield from

BEAUTIFUL IN 5 MINUTES

FREE SAMPLE

LADIES!
THINK OF IT
A Beautiful Complexion IN 5 MINUTES

If you are fortunate enough to have this adv. catch your eye, you'll be one of the happiest women in the world—for I will absolutely guarantee to give a beautiful complexion in 5 minutes WITHOUT COST TO YOU. In all the history of the world's toilette there has NEVER at any time, been such an offer as this—and the best of all is this—YOU CAN TRY AND BE CONVINCED BEFORE you spend a single penny. Thousands of the finest Parisian society women are using this enameline.

Here's the story: I spent the last two years in Europe, and during my travels I discovered an old Parisian physician making Face Enameline. I tried his preparation and I was completely amazed at the results—I was delighted—I was thunderstruck—I could hardly believe my own eyes. From him I purchased the formula and I completely control it throughout America.

Two months ago I gave out a few samples to women friends of mine, and since that time I have been literally swamped with requests for this Parisian Face Enameline. Women have besieged me at my home—implored me to give them more of my preparation. Now a company has been formed to market this amazing Face Enameline, and I will make 50,000 women happy this month. You can be among them if you desire.

My Parisian Face Enameline covers birthmarks, moles, freckles, blotches, blackheads, large pores, liver spots. Absolutely no massaging necessary. Five minutes is all that's needed to give you a perfect satiny complexion. It can't rub off. Makes you beautiful immediately. Keeps your skin in exquisite condition. Put on fresh every day. Ladies carry it in their purses. It eradicates wrinkles—prevents chapping. Really it's the most amazing preparation in the whole world.

And now, in order to introduce it to American women I announce that upon receipt of five 2 cent stamps, to help pay packing, postage, time spent in wrapping, etc., I will send every lady a generous sample to carry in her purse. I know so well, that after you have tried this Parisian Enameline, you will be wildly delighted. I tell you positively there's nothing like it in the whole world.

After you have received your package, let your lady friends try it. They will be amazed. I will mail a package to every lady that sends in five 2-cent stamps, or 10 cents in silver.

STEALING THE PEOPLE'S TIME.

When the people put Judge Wanamaker on the supreme bench of Ohio they thought that certain reforms would soon follow. But the judge, like the people, seems to be "up against it." In spite of all he could do or say that great and august tribunal, the supreme court of Ohio, is now about to start on its usual three months' leave of absence.

Supreme court judges get a salary of $6,000 a year and various incidentals that amount to at least a fourth that much more. It is doubtful if one supreme court justice out of a dozen could earn as much off the bench. AND IF HE DID, IT WOULD NOT BE BY TAKING THREE MONTHS' VACATIONS EACH YEAR.

Any lawyer, or any other professional man in Ohio, outside a few of the larger cities where lucrative corporation practices are to be built up is lucky if he earns one-half the sum the people are paying the members of the supreme bench. And those that do are at it early and late and when a brief vacation of a week is planned and later it is found that the vacation will interfere with business engagements, you may believe the vacation, and not the engagement, waits.

The people pay these men for a year's work. Their time is bought by the people and the obligation is just as binding and as sacred as if they had sold their time to some big corporation. But once in office, the official disposes of the people's time as if it were his own.

But it isn't, and the act of such an official constitutes embezzlement just as surely as if he had taken money. For in all our public, as well as private relations of life, there is nothing, not even excepting money, which is so valuable and which we should guard with such jealous care as TIME.

PROPERTY RIGHTS AND HUMAN RIGHTS.

Some persons consider the Ten Commandments nonsense because they are not expressed with scientific accuracy. They will refer to the fact that a starving man would be justified in stealing food when he can get it in no other way, as though that nullified the commandment "Thou shalt not steal.'

The same bent of mind is shown by the Cincinnati Times-Star in discussing the saying that human rights are superior to property rights. With mock indignation, the Times-Star tells the story of a burglar arrested for rifling a cash register. This, it declares, was putting the dollar above the man. it was making property rights superior to human rights.

It happens that Chas. P Taft owner of the Times-Star, is a heavy stockholder in Cincinnati street railway stocks, and there happens to be a formidable movement afoot in Cincinnati for municipal ownership. The contents of the cash register, he wishes his readers to understand is in the same category as his stock in a stolen fifty-year street railway franchise. The burglar, he contends, belongs in the same class as the people of Cincinnati should they vote to resume possession of property to parting with which they never consented

But his illustration is an unfortunate one for him. If arresting a burglar is putting property rights above human rights, so also must be interference with the work of franchise stealers. If it was right and proper to arrest the burglar and restore the stolen register, so also must it be right and proper to restore the stolen fifty-year franchise to the people of Cincinnati.

[illegible] superior to property rights [illegible] such things as [illegible] property [illegible] is an example.

The streets of Cincinnati belong to the people of the city The corrupt Ohio Legislature of 1896 and a boss controlled municipal board, consisting of four men presented it to Mr. Taft's company. It was not theirs to give Even if Mr. Taft had paid for his shares with money earned by himself, his title to this unjustly acquired property would be morally null An innocent purchaser acquires no better title than the seller has to give. But the money he spent for street railway shares was also the proceeds of property in things not rightfully so It was derived from rental values of Cincinnati land.

The people of the city, through their presence and industry, have created great values, which Mr Taft appropriates legally enough, but his moral right to these values is another question. He deserves no censure for doing so as long as the people are fools enough to allow him to do it, but he does deserve censure for trying to keep them fooled

Having secured possession of a franchise which morally belongs to the people of the city, with money which ought to have been in the public treasury instead of in his pocket, he nevertheless raises a loud outcry against the effort to return the franchise to its rightful owners—American Economic League.

After much litigation and gossip among [illegible] royalty, it has been decided that the Duchess of Westm[illegible] is to receive an annual allowance of $100,000. She is grumbling vigorously because others in her station receive much more. [illegible] would judge from this that $100,000 a year is the minimum [illegible] for duchesses.

The government of Uraguay has [illegible] number of American hens presumably to put the poultry [illegible]ss of that country on its feet. The flag and trade [illegible] American hen.

One thing must in justice be said for [illegible] common house fly. It is always busy, always friendly and [illegible] be in the best of health and spirits at all times.

The reason some men are in favor [illegible]'s suffrage is that it will afford them an entirely new [illegible] whom they may expound their views on the tariff.

The Wise Guy says: When a girl has [illegible] artistic temperament it means her mother has all the [illegible], bed making and dishwashing to do.

Engagement Annouced

The Dayton News contains the following article announcing the engagement of Miss Louise Adams and Robert Harbison of Dayton. Miss Adams is the attractive daughter of Mrs. David Williams of Park Avenue and has many friends who will be interested in the news of her approaching marriage.

Miss Edith Hockett was hostess on Monday evening at one of the most delightful affairs, which it has ever been the pleasure of her congenial coterie of friends to enjoy. The members of the Alpha Theta sorority were the guests of the evening and they assembled at her pretty residence on Catalpa drive to participate in one of the regular sessions of the club. An evening filled with pleasant diversions was followed by luncheon in the dining room, which was quite attractive in summer flowers. As a centerpiece there was a pretty wicker basket filled with pink roses, above which a chain of white daisies entwined the handle. The hostess, having just recently returned from a sojourn in the south, brought with her a number of cotton pods, just bursting forth their downy white. These she had banked about the rose-filled basket and later invited the guests to claim as souvenirs of the occasion. Their possession revealed an interesting feature, for attached were gilt-edged cards, inscribed with the names of Miss D. Louise Adams and Robert Harbison, the groom-elect a native of Danville, Ky., and the south. The date of their wedding has not been decided, but it will probably be an event of the fall. Miss Adams is the daughter of B. F. Adams of Salem circle. Congratulations ensued and had scarcely abated when another course, ices molded in roses, ended, the guests discovered small cards beneath the dainty doilies, bearing the names of the hostess and Robert P. Wortman, the date for their wedding, too, an indefinite matter. Another merry season of congratulations ensued. Place cards were tinted in pink and bore dainty cupids. Throughout the house roses, peonies and daisies lent their beauty and fragrance and an evening of usual pleasure was enjoyed.

Mr. Harbison is connected with the treasurer's department of the N. C. R., while Mr. Wortman is vice president and general manager of the Precision Tool and Manufacturing company.

Care of Hands in Summer.

If it is a problem in winter, it becomes a puzzle in summer, keeping the hands in good condition, when so many things conspire against it. Wind and sun, you know, play all sorts of tricks with the hands and arms, as well as with the face, and if you go in for any of the sports the odds are against nice hands.

If your hands have the slightest tendency to redness, never immerse them in hot water when they are cold or in cold water when they are very hot. Tepid water is the best anyhow—tepid water and a good soap; and, by the way, be careful about soap.

Lemon is an excellent agent, and a few drops in water will also help keep the flesh firm and the skin smooth. If, however, the skin persists in being rough a few drops of carbolic acid in the bathing water will help.

Callouses and enlarged knuckles can far more easily be prevented than cured. Manipulate the hands every night with a skin food, rubbing in circles and in a downward direction from the finger tips, paying particular attention to the parts that are likely to become calloused, and being equally careful to avoid rounding the knuckles. Instead immerse the knuckles in hot milk two or three times during the day.

If the hands have a tendency to moisten it shows poor circulation, which should be corrected, but temporary relief may be obtained through the use of a lotion composed of 25 grams of rosewater, five grams of glycerine and 12 and a half centigrams of tannin. This is efficacious and harmless.

Rules for the Well Bred.

It is not proper to tuck one's handkerchief inside the open neck of one's gown, making use of this opening as a place of safety for the mouchoir, and no person who cares to be thought well bred will do it. To pull out even a handkerchief from inside one's waist is unrefined. The handkerchief should be kept up the sleeve, which fashion still countenances, or in a fancy bag to match the gown, which is one of the fads of the summer.

Either through thoughtlessness or ignorance, some women have a trick of continually fussing at the neck of a low cut waist. They give it little pulls, as if it did not fit comfortably, or hitch it with their shoulders as if they felt out of place in it. Such a movement is most unpleasant, for it not only makes the person who does it conspicuous, but it calls attention to probable defects which were better concealed.

Youth Sinks to Death in Tuscarawas

Port Washington, June 19:—While endeavoring to reach shore through a channel of water six feet deep about a quarter of a mile below the Tuscarawas river bridge here, Paul Gengnagle, 16, son of Henry Gengnagle, undertaker, drowned Wednesday afternoon about 3 o'clock. The body was recovered about a half hour later by Paul Shields, 16, son of Rev. T. W. Shields, who was with the lad when he drowned.

Shields, himself an excellent swimmer, was in danger several times through the death-like clutches of his more unfortunate friend. Although he tried to take Fengnagle to shore, his efforts were of no avail.

Frederick Gengnagle, 12, a brother, sat on the bank watching the boys swim and did not know that his brother had drowned until told by Shields.

The parents of the season's first swimming victim are prostrated. About two years ago, a son, 16, was literally ground to pieces by a Panhandle flyer.

Brass Works to Locate at Newcomers

Newcomerstown, June 19:—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Home Improvement company held Tuesday, the proposition for locating a brass works here was presented and recommended by the directors as being worthy of consideration. A vote of the stockholders resulted in the officers of the company being instructed to enter into an agreement and arrange for financing the deal.

Briefly the conditions of the proposition are that the brass works company are to erect a building 50x130 feet of brick or cement construction: that they will remove their machinery and equipment here worth approximately $20,000 and when operating at full capacity, they will employ 60 men, with a pay roll amounting to $2,800 a month.

Local citizens are asked to donate a site and $5,000 in cash and to furnish a loan of $10,000. It is understood that the $10,000 loan has already been arranged for, and that as soon as the $5,000 bonus is raised, work will be commenced at once on the building.

TALK THROUGH AIR.

Englishman Has Invention to Commercialize Wireless Telephone.

London, June 19. William Durnall, an English engineer, has an invention which will possibly revolutionize etheric telegraphy and make the long distance wireless telephone commercially possible.

The invention consists of an electric generator capable of producing heavy currents with alternating frequency of 3,000 to 10,000 periods per second. Both telegraph and telephone by wireless have hitherto been handicapped by the lack of such generators. A wireless telephone demands currents of frequency greatly higher than the frequency of the sound waves produced by speech, while the efficiency of the wireless telegraph is greatly increased thereby. Hitherto it has been impossible to construct a dynamo of large output which is capable of producing such currents.

Mr. Durnall's invention, it is said, overcomes all these difficulties. It produces currents of high frequency and also of variable frequency. The generator consists of a prime alternator which produces polyphase alternating currents of given frequency and voltage.

This frequency and voltage, by means of a series of machines working upon the same shafting and known as "transformer generators" is stopped up to a very high degree without increasing the revolution or speed. The usual mechanical difficulties which present themselves in the shape of centrifugal forces are thereby avoided.

The inventor maintains that it is possible to construct machines of such power that the commercial use of a wireless telephone for a distance of several hundred miles will be immediately possible, and will hasten the development of big centers for wireless distribution of correspondence.

TWO AIRMEN KILLED.

Birdman and Passenger Fall When Aeroplane Upsets.

Berlin, June 19. Two German airmen were killed at the Johannisthal aerodrome. Aviator Krafter, carrying a passenger named Gerlatz, had ascended with the intention of making a 'two hours' flight. There was practically no wind and the biplane was making good speed, when it suddenly turned a somersault at a height of [illegible] feet, throwing its passengers to the ground, dead.

Fatally Crushed Beneath Auto.

Kenton, O., June 19.—While rushing to Lima in an automobile to get a tank of oxygen for Miss Helen Sornard, who is dying with fever, John Barker was internally hurt and will probably die as a result of injuries received when the automobile turned turtle. The machine went into a ditch, pinning Barker beneath it, when one of the front wheels came off. Stewart Garretson, who was in the machine with Barker, was slightly injured. He went on to Lima in another machine.

Schooner Sinks; Six Drowned.

Boston, June 19. Six men lost their lives when the Gloucester fishing schooner [illegible] was run down and sunk 19 miles off Sable island, in a thick fog by the Warren line steamship Sagamore, Boston bound from Liverpool. Eight other men of the crew saved themselves by running up the foreriggings of the stricken craft and scrambling aboard the steamer as the [illegible] was rolled over under the bow of the liner.

Killed Under Train.

Uhrichsville, O., June 19.—The body of W. W. Moore, a glass worker of Wichita Falls, Tex., was found on the tracks of the Pennsylvania road near here. It is supposed he fell from a freight train on which he was riding.

Heat Kills Farmer.

EIGHTY WOMEN ARE CREMATED

Russian Peasants Rid Plantation of Imported Workers.

St. Petersburg, June 19.—Eighty women were burned to death by villagers enraged at the importation of cheap girl labor to work on a sugar estate in the district of Piriatin, in the province of Poltava, southern Russia, according to the Kiev Newspaper Liamin.

The excited villagers first securely fastened all the means of exit from a wooden barn in which the girls were housed. They then set fire to the building while the inmates were still asleep and all were burned to death without a chance to escape.

RAP JOKER ON HEAD.

Senate Committee Changes Language of Sugar Schedule.

Washington, June 19.—An eleventh-hour discovery that the sugar schedule of the Underwood tariff bill had a joker in it which would have operated to make all refined sugar dutiable at 2 cents a pound and nullify the Wilson administration's provision for free sugar after three years, resulted in an amendment by majority members of the senate finance committee.

Elimination in the Underwood bill of the Dutch standard of color, which has been in tariff bills for many years, it was discovered, made applicable to all refined sugar a paragraph from the Payne Aldrich bill relating to confectionery, which included the following words: "Sugars after being refined, when tinctured, colored or in any way adulterated, 2 cents per pound."

Members of the finance committee ordered an investigation and President Wilson, when his attention was called to it, agreed that it should be looked into thoroughly.

The majority members of the committee received expert reports that the provision might operate as a joker and they promptly struck out the language as it referred to refined sugars and left it applicable only to confectioneries.

TOOK MILK BATH.

Chicago Dairy Teamster Deluged When Wagon Takes a Drop.

Chicago, June 19.—Zenophon Herbert, employed as driver for a dairy company, narrowly escaped drowning in milk when a portion of St. Lawrence avenue caved in and dropped him into a big hole. Several big milk cans emptied their contents upon Herbert. A Chinese laundryman, who saw him and the milk wagon vanish from the earth, ran to the police station. The police called upon the firemen, who rescued the milk wagon driver.

"Who was the actress lady," demanded Zenophon, "who took milk baths and said she liked them "
